

Georgia Real Estate Course Final Exam and Proctor Policy

The State of Georgia requires (Rule 520-2.04-6) that the final exam for this course be proctored.

All examinations must be administered under supervision to ensure that total security is provided for the examinations prior to, during, and after administration. Students are prohibited from copying or otherwise duplicating or reproducing examinations and examination questions.

Students must meet the minimum score requirements (as detailed below) on an exam administered by a proctor in order to pass the course final examination. Students who take an examination without an acceptable proctor (as detailed below) will be required to complete and pass an additional attempt with an acceptable proctor present before they will be awarded credit for the course exam.

Georgia Salesperson Prelicense passing score – 75%

Georgia Salesperson Post License passing score – 75%

Georgia Broker Prelicense passing score – 70%

Falsifying proctor information will invalidate your examination score and may possibly forfeit your right to be licensed in Georgia. Attempts to defraud exam results or proctoring will be reported directly to the Georgia Real Estate Commission and access to your course will be removed immediately.

General Proctoring Guidelines

The course final exam must be taken and passed in the presence of an acceptable proctor in order to complete the course. Each attempt at the final exam must be supervised by an acceptable proctor. The final exam is the last chapter of the course.

You have two proctoring options. The first is through our online proctoring partner, Monitor Edu. The second is to find and schedule an appointment with an in-person proctor in your area.
